On removing the fire-board, he discovered that one flue of the chimney was full of honey-comb which was to the top of the house to sound the o chimney, he found the flue full of the comb to the top, and the bees still at work. In the other room he found it to be the same; one flue of the chimney was full, and the bees were industriously

The flues of the chimney had never been used; they were plastered smooth inside; and were perfectly dark, a stone having been placed on the top of each flue. The bees had descended the adjoining flues, and found small holes about ten inches from the top of the which will be found the largest and most comchimney leading into the closed flues, and through these holes they have made their way in and out. They have, as is supposed, occupied these places for three years, having been kept warm in the Winter by the heat from the adjoining flues. On removing the fire-board, the bees, seeing the great light which had broken in upon them, descended to the room and cathered on the windows, until they were covered to the thickness of three inches. It is estimated that there are in the two flues from 40,000 to 50,one been, and from two to three thouse Retail Stores and from two to three thouse Retail Stores are all by maid.
